

I am Snow White?

When I was little, we went to The Magic Kingdom. I went on this ride called “Snow White’s Scary Adventures”. I was only 5, so I was expecting happy adventures with Snow White, a few cute dwarves, singing birds, and the occasional old lady with an apple.

I got an eerie feeling the moment the ride took off.

Where is Snow White? Where are the dwarves?

It wasn’t until the ride was over that someone told me the ride was supposed to make you feel as if you WERE Snow White...What the?!

I didn’t want to be Snow White.

That’s some scary stuff! But there I was, trapped on the ride, crashing into walls and dragged through a dungeon, being constantly tortured by frightening images of the evil witch.

I walked off that ride scared, and to be honest...ticked off.

My older brother thought it was funny. He kept laughing at how terrified I was, so he bought me a princess tiara. Gee...THANKS!

Next time, I am heading straight for Space Mountain!

Note: This has been performed by both male and female performers with equal success!