

Princess

Carla loves animals and wants to be a princess. She's talking to her mom.

If I were a princess, I'd have lots of horses and a pig called Bingo.

We'd be best friends and live in a really big castle. Bingo can talk, so he'd give really good advice to the whole kingdom. Everyone would tell him their problems. Except for me. I wouldn't have any problems, except sometimes maybe my crown might get bent when I'm riding my horses, so I can tell Bingo about that. Mom, could we please, please get a pet piggy?

Who knows! We might even find a magic one who could help you with all of your problems. Please?
